BASKET BALL

Norway High School 82; Winthrop High School 2

Master-mechanic Luce's well-oiled machine never slipped a cog in their game with Winthrop Friday night. Winthrop was clearly out-classed at every point and only made a half-hearted effort during the second half of play. At the opening whistle Winthrop grabbed the ball and made three passes for the basket all of which failed to count. Norway then turned, her turn and failed as completely as did Winthrop. Norway's ever-ready captain came across with a ringer, closely followed by King and Emerson. The trio duplicated with an addition of one by Haskell from behind and another by King. Winthrop hooped a foul followed in a few seconds by another. It was her only two points in the entire game, Norway having her own way, and hardly limbered up when the first half ended 86-2.

N. H. S. 2nd Team 6; Hebron Academy 4

At the call-arms the 2nd team warriors rallied around the banner in the game of the evening. Both teams got off to a whirlwind start. For a time it looked as though the killing pace would be more than the game second string men could stand. Hebron scored a basket and the mill waxed hot and furious, the first quarter ending 2-0 favor of the Hebron.

With decks cleared for action, at the beginning of the second period, Norway opened the throttle wide, and Lafrance tied the score with a classy hit that raised the roof. The Oxfordian warriors rang out, stirring the team to a gallant struggle that kept the fans wild and eager another basket for the honor of Norway high and the credit of Coach Luce. Hebron charged and charged time and again but failed to go over the top in the face of the heavy firing. The end of the first half found the position unchanged with Norway leading 4-2. With murder in their hearts, Norway set sails for a whirlwind finish in the second half. Refreshed from their brief respite the Hebronites shook a wicked fog on the home sprites that bodied no good for the home outfit. With untiring effort the Hebron lads met attack with attack, shifting from defense to offense and back again in bewildering succession, they juggled the ball like expert magicians, almost faster than the eye could follow. The lusty pleading of the Norway warriors was answered by another goal that called forth a racket like an explosion in a boiler factory. Hebron redoubled her efforts and Bearce repeated his performance in the first quarter. Norway was equal to the occasion and ousted any further accomplishments on the visitors' part, the score standing 6-4 with Norway one jump ahead at the final whistle. Kenyon covered the floor with a speed and dispatch that equaled two ordinary men. Kilgore did well but failed to make his shots count. Lewis filled his position in a satisfactory manner that is hard to equal in one of his size. The Walker brothers stepped around in a lively fashion with Harry at center, and annexing the tip-off, and William in the backfield. Lafrance was his partner and played a handy style that won 4 of the 6 points.

Manager Harriman After South Paris

Guy Harriman, manager of the Norway A. C., has been unable to make satisfactory arrangements with the South Paris clerk's basket ball team, for a game. There has been some haggling over the amount the clerks believe they should receive for their appearance here. To bring the matter to a head, Manager Harriman challenges the clerks for a game on the Norway court, Feb. 15. Norway Athletic Club will pay hall rental, music and advertising, then divide 60-40, or winner take all. According to Manager Harriman he will agree to anything reasonable for a game, but stalls on a guarantee beyond the drawing power of any attraction.

BOWLING

Wasp 1320; Gene's All-Star 1304

Boydton's Wasp added another victim to their string at Parrin's Bowling Alley, Friday evening. This time Desco's All-Stars fell behind on the third string match, losing with a total of 1304 against 1320. Desco's Satellites jumped on the Wasp nest during the second string and had Capt. Boydton's champions 40 pins in the hole. A bad slump from the All-Stars was overthrown by the Waps, turned the scales, sending the game to Boydton's Wreckers with 16 pins to the good.

Billy White Won the Victor's Wreath
The long debated individual bowling match between William H. White, a foreman at the Norway Shoe Co. and Billy Kenyon of the Carroll, Jefferson Shoe Co. was staged at Parrin's Bowling Alley, Tuesday evening. White clobbered up the highest score in ten strings which was 833 against his opponent's 739.

Of course the place was crowded for this was a match of some importance owing to a question of championship honors. Billy White was introduced as the former champion of Haverhill, Mass., and Billy Kenyon appeared as a former champion of Rochester, N. Y. Unfortunately both ex-champions were not in form and admitted their skill a little shy of the blowing-off mark. There was no appearance of stage fright.

Champion White proved that Haverhill is the hub of the universe and that Boston is generally accepted. He rolled with a beautiful swing, showing the young sprouts a technique wholly unknown to modern civilization. Billy Kenyon, also a disciple of the old school, used ingenious curves and twists and turns of the ball to keep the fans guessing. He rolled with a beautiful swing, showing the young sprouts a technique wholly unknown to modern civilization. Billy Kenyon, also a disciple of the old school, used ingenious curves and twists and turns of the ball to keep the fans guessing.

Both players were ably supported by an unusual array of local sports and advisers. Excitement ran high for the pair never far apart in figures although the total showed Billy White averaged 150 to the good in every string.

Another match is expected in the near future and friends will be on hand. The preliminaries to the big show included a two-man match between Ward S., featuring Gene Descocean and "Rusty" Herrick, and Up-town's, represented by Paul Boydton and Will Olmstead. Three strings resulted in a victory for the Up-towns, 548-500.

To make an old man missing of the winners, which resulted in a decisive victory for the Up-towns. Another pair including Randall and the C. J. C. Whirlwind believed they could humiliate the champions. This match went also to the Up-towns by a narrow margin. The Up-towns won the Norway championship in the two-man class and will defend that title.

Literary Club Entertainment

Nearly one hundred and fifty persons were delighted with the high grade entertainment conducted by the Literary Club Wednesday evening, January 30th. President Hilda Russell was the presiding officer of the evening. About twenty dollars was cleared above expense. Miss Helen E. Andrews of Auburn was the feature of the entertainment. Miss Andrews has appeared both in Chataqua and on the vaudeville stage, and is a talented impersonator, well known in Norway. She gave several selections from O. Henry and has been very active in the interpretation of negro slave songs as a treat in themselves, and taken with her impersonation of the typical negro vendor of "bananas an music with d'no monk," left the audience convulsed with laughter. A lightning transformation made her into an Indian girl, and an old man missing of her gone days, who sang "They Miss Me" in a cracked voice to his own accompaniment on the piano. Mary Mead and Stone rendered several excellent solos in a pleasing manner. Gary Locke, also gave some exceedingly fine solos. A violin solo by Harry Kenyon called forth an encore. Mr. Kenyon is a Senior at Norway High, coming here last fall from Ellsworth High School.

Rifle Team Matches

The rifle team of the W. F. Tubbs Co. snowshoe mill desires to meet any five men in Oxford County to shoot on a 50 foot range, 22 calibre rifles being used. Positions, offhand, sitting, kneeling or prone; one or all positions according to agreement.

The local range in Company C. armory is available and well fitted for a match, desired by the snowshoe makers. George F. Tubbs is captain of the team and is trying to create interest in target shooting.

Albert L. Hobbs

Albert L. Hobbs, well known in Norway some forty years ago, died at his home in San Francisco, Cal., on January 6, after a brief illness. His age was 64 yrs. The deceased was born in Port Kent, Oct. 26, 1861, son of Cyrrin S. and Isabella Hobbs. The family moved to Norway when he was about fourteen years of age and he entered into the youthful activities of the village. After attending Norway Academy, he taught several terms of school in Sodom neighborhood and later carried on an express business in the village.

In 1883 he migrated to the Pacific coast with the "Gibson boys" and settled in Stanislaus County, California. In a few years he returned to Norway and after a brief stay another trip was made to California, this time he selected Santa Cruz. While there he married Alice Steinmetz, who survives him.

Moving to Fresno in 1890 he formed a partnership in the produce business with his brother-in-law, known as the Hobbs & Hammond firm. This was dissolved into existence which still continues. He retired in 1897 to form the Hobbs Raisin Packing Co. This was sold and the Giffen, Hobbs Company was organized which formed one of the famous raisin buying pools that preceded the California Associated Raisin Co.

Mr. Hobbs was active in the public life in Fresno, being a member of several prominent clubs and fraternal organizations and interested in local politics. Several years ago the family changed their residence to San Francisco where he could take up his usual charge of large farming interests in that part of the state. Besides his widow, he leaves one son, Charles Hobbs, an official of the Emporium in San Francisco. He leaves also one sister and two brothers residing in Maine, Mrs. Nellie McGuckick of Guilford, Geo. W. Hobbs of Norway and Alfred Hobbs of North Bethel and a nephew, Albert C. Hobbs of Portland.

Moses Cummings Observed Birthday
Moses Cummings, one of the oldest citizens in Norway, celebrated his 99th birthday on Sunday. He received post cards and many friends called to offer personal congratulations. His health is good considering his advanced years. He reads a great deal and is alive to all important questions before the people.

Mr. Cummings is a native of Woodstock, born Jan. 27, 1825, in the locality known as Hamlin's Grant. His parents were Joseph and Cinderella Lapham Cummings. He married Julia Cushman of Bethel in 1856 and they settled in that town. At the outbreak of the Civil war he enlisted in Company B, 17th Maine. Later he re-enlisted in the First Maine Heavy Artillery to which he was attached until the end of the struggle.

His wife died during the war and after his discharge he returned home to care for his two motherless children, a son and a daughter. In 1869 he took for his second wife, Julia Barker. To them was born a daughter who died some years ago. Mrs. Cummings passed away in 1911, soon afterward he came to Norway to reside with his son Eugene Cummings and granddaughter, Mrs. Howard Lasselle, on Paris street.

Mr. Cummings is a member of the Baptist Church at Bryant's Pond and a charter member of A. M. Whittman Post G. A. R. in that village.

Given Birthday Party

Mrs. Mary Churchill, one of Norway's oldest and smartest ladies, celebrated her 81st birthday Wednesday, Jan. 28, and in honor of the occasion, was given a surprise party at the home of Mrs. Charles W. Chick, where she makes her home. She was not aware of the arrival of any guests until she was invited to the parlor which she found lined with relatives and friends.

Several fine piano selections were enjoyed by Edwin Chick, and after a social hour, all were invited to the dining room which was tastefully decorated in lavender and white. A dainty lunch was served and then a birthday cake ornamented with 81 lighted candles was presented to the guest of honor, which she cut and served with ice cream. Mrs. Churchill's plate was piled high with gifts.

It was a happy evening for all and Mrs. Churchill's smiling face was testimony to her happiness. Mrs. Churchill is wonderfully preserved for a woman of her years. She has good health, hearing and eyesight. Her memory of the happenings of her childhood days is distinct and she enjoys talking these events over.

She is a native of Sumner but early came to Norway and she claims Norway as her real home. She was united in marriage with William Churchill of Norway and three children were born to them, all of whom are dead and Mr. Churchill passed away many years ago. She had one son, Verne Aldrich of Auburn, by a second marriage, and one grandson, Howard Aldrich.

For several years Mrs. Churchill was matron of the Old Ladies Home at Saco and later held a similar position at the Home for Aged Women in Auburn. She is possessed of an amiable disposition and has wonderful tact and was a great favorite with those at the homes. For several years she was assistant undertaker and nurse at Auburn. For a time she lived in Lynn, and conducted a lodging house. Her life has been very active and today she is not happy unless she is busy. She is making her home with Mrs. Chick and assists with the housework, mending and sewing. She is skillful with the needle and since last fall has made several patchwork quilts and knitted several pairs of mittens for the Comfort Christmas. She is a member of the Universalist church but is the Congregational church is nearby, she attends services there every Sunday. She is also a member of the Norway Grange, Mount Hope Rebekah Lodge and the W. C. T. U. of Norway and the Eastern Star of Auburn. Mrs. Churchill has two brothers, one in Iowa and one in Lisbon.

Mrs. Frank Smith of Bolster's Mills is a patient at the Nurses Hospital on surgery street. She underwent minor surgery and seems to be slowly recovering.

Mrs. Ernest Jordan of Mechanic Falls spent Wednesday at the Nurses Hospital visiting her son, Shirley Jordan, a patient there.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Helen and Bernice Dullea, Ruth Cobb, Doris Stone and Doris Kilgore reported back at school last Monday.

The evening study periods are still proving popular with the students. Parents need have no qualms about allowing their children to attend as a teacher is always in charge. Students must appear promptly at 7.00 o'clock and are not allowed to leave until 8 o'clock.

Rehearsals are progressing for the high school opera, "A Daughter of the Cresent."

The Physics teacher proved to an incredulous class the other day that water can be boiled in a paper bag. The students were furnished with a Bunsen burner, water and a paper bag and told to try the experiment. Of course the water condensed on the underside of the bag, keeping the ignition point high enough so the bag would not burn.

The Caducues went on sale Tuesday morning. Only a limited edition was printed this semester.

Captain Hilda Russell injured a rib during the Winthrop girls' game. She fell against a settee along the side lines. The following schedule for the use of the gymnasium has been arranged:

Monday—11:55-5:00, High Grade only.
Tuesday—3:15-5:00, Freshman, Glee.
Wednesday—3:15-5:00, Sophomores.
Thursday—1:30-4:30, Open.
Friday—3:15-5:00, Seventh grade.
Saturday—1:30-4:30, Junior and Senior Classes only.

Coach Luce has charge of the gymnasium.

Captain Manford Palmer is suffering from blood poisoning in his right hand and could take up an infected blister. Manford Edith Joslin is also troubled with blood poisoning in her right hand. Marita Cushman, who injured her knee at the Bridgton Academy game last Friday, is still confined to the house.

UNCLE LEM'S SAYINGS

Senator Cabot Lodge was represented by Collier, the cartoonist, in Friday's Boston Herald, as an old woman. Has it to such a pass that he is being considered in inebriated circles as the "Political Granny" of New England?

Senator Underwood scores in advocating a single Presidential term of six years. The fastest statement of the country have favored this idea. He is a clean, able man and would make a splendid chief magistrate. No bloc, faction, or clique of wire-pullers would have a hook in his nose.

They are at odds over the rules for doing business in the House of Representatives at Washington. Debate is stirred and a few control. It is claimed that this is necessary, if any measures of importance are assured. Congress should be a deliberative body. The sensible thing is to cut down the representation and make it so as the founders intended.
The membership in the House would be greatly improved by reducing it one-half.

Maine would be just as well represented with two. What do some of them amount to, anyway? They vote for detrimental measures like the bonus, and after a presidential veto, dodge.

The wisest among the gallant boys who served in the great world war are against the bonus as it would at this time be detrimental to the prosperity of the country and its effects would be felt for many years to come. They would rather have a pension by and by, as the soldiers of every war have had, sensible fellows and good citizens.

They have one barber in the British labor ministry. It will take half a dozen or more to keep down the bristles from rising on the scalps of their wild followers in the House of Commons.

There are hundreds of words, which have crept into the language, such as
"booster," "epoxy," "jack-up,"
"dorky," "lobbyist," etc. They are expressive and will stick. Someone has originated "scoff-law." It must have militarily strained his intellect if indeed he had any to speak of, and left him in a condition fit for a home of the feeble minded. Poor deluded mortal!

We have for some time been trying to locate Editor Staps, a physician and Fred Sanborn's great barn door but so far have failed. Perhaps they are not very far apart.

vant shall sing for joy of heart.
—Isaiah 65:14.

THE SPIRIT OF TRUTH.—Even

for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.—John 14:17.

piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and as a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.—Hebrews 4:12.

WHEN GREAT THINGS SHALL OCCUR.—Then shall the lame man leap as a hart, and the tongue of the dumb shall sing; for in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert.

AN END TO WORRY.—Be careful for nothing; but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God.
And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts them less liable to colds. Repeated attacks of "acute Catarrh" may lead to Chronic Catarrh.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Forecasting A Tremendous Spring Demand

739,626

more Ford cars and trucks were produced last year than the previous year, an increase of over 50 per cent.

In spite of this tremendous increase in production, it was impossible to meet delivery requirements during the spring and summer months when orders for 350,000 Ford Cars and Trucks could not be filled.

This year winter buying for immediate delivery has been more active than ever before—and in addition 200,000 orders have already been booked through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan for spring delivery.

These facts clearly indicate that the demand during this spring and summer will be far greater than ever, and that orders should be placed immediately with Ford Dealers as a means of protection against delay in securing your Ford Car or Truck or Fordson Tractor.

MAKING THE RADIO FAN PAY

Ever since the beginning of the present enthusiasm for radio entertainment, ever since the band concerts and the broad-casting programs and the bedtime stories commenced to dispute with the dots and dashes of code signaling for the rights of the evening air, the radio enthusiast has needed to make up to his expenditure, the original cost of his receiving equipment, to bring into his home, week after week, an unending round of music, instruction and amusement. "Free as the air," the radio voices are, indeed, and one of the chief non-mechanical problems of the industry, which has sprung up out of the enormous interest in wireless telephony has been to devise some way of making the consumer pay for the waves his aerial snafes for him.

Up to the present, the radio programs have been given, for the most part by the manufacturers of radio equipment and by others who expect to profit by a novel form of advertising. The listener-in buys a cheap set first, and then, filled with ambition to hear the stations just beyond, he discards it and gets a stronger and more expensive one. It is this demand that has enabled the broadcasters to meet the steadily mounting cost as programs become more elaborate. Now, like the automobile men, the radio trade fears the bogey of a "saturation point." Who will pay for the programs after that is reached?

Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, who has taken a great interest in the whole radio field and has settled quite a few of its problems, thinks the answer to the question is to be found in the success of the experiments of a lighting company in New York. The company's wires pick up the programs anyway, and the company rents to its consumers attachments adjustable to an ordinary light socket, and the concert may be turned on at will. The method is not new, of course; it was invented and patented by an American army officer several years ago. This electric company is merely the first to make general use of it. And it is the only plan thus far devised that makes possible a regular charge for the programs.

Though it is not expected that the great army of radio fans will hail and welcome the discovery of some sure way of assessing them for their entertainment, a good many others feel that such a plan would make for a higher standard of programs and bring within their reach a great many possible attractions not now available. The Actors' Equity Association, for instance, has recently forbidden its members to broadcast without remuneration. Song writers are demanding royalties, orchestras require salaries, some news services refuse the use of their dispatches. So the hunt will continue, probably, until the radio follower, like the movie-goer and the baseball fan, pays his way in full.

EAST STONEHAM

McAlister Avenue

Saturday night, Jan. 26, was the coldest night for the season; the thermometer registering 30 degrees below zero and the wind blowing a gale.

Carlton Barker broke his wrist while cranking a gasoline engine.

Bernal McAlister had what might have been a serious accident one last week while coming down off Pine Mountain with a load of poplar bolts on. The sled broke throwing him from the load against a tree. The bolts fell from the sleds against his legs pinning him so close he didn't get away until Raymond McAlister, who is working with him, went to his aid. He escaped without any injuries, however, except being some lame the next day.

Curtis Bickford and Bert Dadman cut ice for F. R. McAlister, Friday.

Hazel Miller and Edith Chaplin spent the day, Thursday, at Mrs. Ernest McAlister's.

Roger Adams of Norway spent the week end at Charles Chaplin's.

Virginia McAlister was sick the past week with a bad cold. Dr. Hubbard of Waterford was called to see her.

Saturday and Sunday Bethel had a taste of Dakota weather, high winds and drifting snow.

Chapman Buildings Burned
Sunday forenoon when Alonzo Chapman returned from the village where he delivers milk he found his house on fire in the attic. It had got such headway that he couldn't control it and his chemicals were so cold he couldn't use them. Help was summoned and many responded. The house was one of the oldest in town located in Mayville, over the bridge from the village. The fire truck carried chemicals but in spite of all the house, a two story structure, burned.

The barn and all other buildings were saved and practically all the furnishings of the house as the men worked hard to save as much as possible. It is a hard thing to be turned out of home this cold weather and it is fortunate it was in the day time for they would have almost perished and lost all perhaps. They have three children, one of school age. They expect to be able to locate near their place as there are houses vacant.

On account of the extreme cold no services were held at the Congregational church, Sunday.

Mrs. Percy Brinck and Millie Clark are assisting at Maple Inn at present.

There were two chimney fires in the village during the recent cold spell.

The Community Music Committee are Mrs. F. E. Russell, Mrs. Anne Wiley Miss Hope Arno and Miss Whiteside.

Mrs. W. E. Russell's brother, Claude N. Mills, has been on an invitation trip to Portland, Oregon, with other salesmen of the Oregon Woolen Company. A trip worth taking.

Francis Mills of West Bethel was a visitor in the village recently.

He is caring for his father, W. D. Mills, who is very ill.

Lawrence Kimball of Harrisburg, Pa., who was called home by the death of his mother, is spending a few days with his father.

Mrs. Benjamin Kimball

Mrs. Annie (Berry) Kimball, wife of Benjamin Kimball, passed away very suddenly at her home on the Middle Intervale road Monday night, Jan. 21. She has not been well for some time but has been able to go to church, grant meetings and lodge. She will be greatly missed by her family and many friends. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. John Howe and Miss Alice Kimball, and one son, Lawrence, and two grandchildren besides her husband.

Services were held at the home Thursday afternoon, the Rev. S. T. Achenbach officiated. Burial was in the cemetery at Middle Intervale beside their son, Philip, who passed away several years ago.

The Chapman concert was Thursday afternoon; a rare treat to all music lovers.

Alice Kimball, Night Superintendent of the Hospital in Boston, was called home by the sudden death of her mother, Mrs. Benjamin Kimball.

Gilbert Brown is able to get about on crutches. He has had a long time of enforced confinement since breaking his leg last fall.

A party of twenty are expected to occupy the Straw house recently purchased by the Bethel Inn proprietors, to enjoy winter sports in Maine and rugged weather may be enjoyed by them and Maine will have lived up to her reputation.

Saw recently that zero weather prevailed in Virginia, reported by travelers on their way to Florida by car.

LOCKE'S MILLS

The many friends of Gwendolyn Bartlett were surprised to learn of her marriage to Joseph Ruffner of Bayonne, N. J. The wedding occurred, January 19, at New Haven, Conn. Mrs. Ruffner, with her parents, had been visiting relatives there. One or two of her friends here were in the secret. Mrs. Ruffner is the only daughter of King and Annie Bartlett. She is very musical. She is a member of the O. E. S. Mr. Ruffner is editor-in-chief of the Bayonne Times and is a well known writer, writing under the name of Dallan Hale. The couple will reside in New Jersey.

ANDOVER

Luther Merrill Hewey

Luther Merrill Hewey, a prominent citizen of Andover, was found dead in his home on Main Street late Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Ray Thurston and son and Sylvanus DeLong, neighbors, entered his home and found him fully dressed and apparently ready to go to the village. He had been dead several hours.

Mr. Hewey was 80 years of age and since the death of his wife in 1918 had lived alone. He had served the town as its Treasurer for 25 years and Tax Collector for 6 years. In his younger days he was engaged in the freight business from Bryant Pond to Andover. He was a member of Cabot Lodge, K. of P. and of the Masonic Lodge of Rumford. He is survived by four children, Mrs. Neal Bodwell, John K. Hewey, and Ora F. Hewey of this town and Mrs. William Smith of Rumford. Also three sisters, Mrs. Frank Hurd of Norway, Mrs. Frank Thomas and Mrs. Albert Thomas of Rumford.

Funeral services took place at the Congregational church, Rev. Allen Brown of Rumford conducted the services.

HIGHWAYS VITAL TO BETTER CIVILIZATION

The part that highways play in the progress of civilization is well shown by the experience of Europe during the past 2,000 years. From the golden milestone in Rome great highways were built to the remotest bounds of the Roman Empire. Over them went the Roman soldier, and with him law and order. Over them went the missionary of the Cross, and with him the church, hospital, medical science, and improved agriculture.

Present day halls of justice, schools, colleges and universities, great churches and cathedrals, and the maximum of population, wealth and culture, are found along the highways thrown out from Rome.

On that fateful July day, when the German thrust the point of his wedge between the English and the French at Chateau Thierry, and there was not a man or a gun to oppose their march to the English Channel, it was the highways which saved Europe. Fifty miles away were forty thousand U. S. Marines and other troops and a thousand American-made motor trucks. Due to the splendid roads of France, they arrived on time, and the "chocolate troops" of the German Army were hurled back. The motor truck and the roads of France saved civilization.

If for twenty centuries the system of highways has been the mold into which sixty generations of Europeans have been run and have taken shape, who can measure the influence on American life of a national highway system, gridironing this land between ocean and ocean and connecting all the county seats of all the States? When the rate of speed on Europe's roads was but three to six miles per hour for passengers and two miles per hour for freight, the highway determined twenty centuries of history. What will be the effect on American life with highways which speed up the movement of passengers to twenty-five or even forty miles an hour and of freight to twelve or even thirty miles per hour, at the same time reducing the cost?

REDDING AND SHAGG POND

John Redding is harvesting his ice; Colby Post is cutting it for him, on Shagg Pond.

E. E. Rowe and John Andrews are working for H. D. McAlister at his mill in South Woodstock. They spend every week end with their families, here.

Myrtle Farnum has been confined to the house for the past two weeks with neuritis in one knee. Since being shut in, the ladies of Wm. A. Barrows Relief Corps and other friends, tendered Miss Farnum a post card shower. She received fifty-one post cards.

Mrs. D. H. Robbins was a recent guest of Mrs. Nellie Barrett on Sumner Hill.

Welsford Lapham of Rumford was a guest of friends in town several days last week.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

North Pole Transferred to Oxford County

The extreme cold wave which reached us Saturday and remained well into Monday, was one of the most severe in years. A high wind from the northwest accompanied the below zero temperature during Saturday night and Sunday, inflicting much damage to water pipes. From 20 to 32 below zero Sunday morning was reported in Norway with the mercury near 12 below all day and a general decline after sunset. The wind searched out every nook in the average dwelling and heating plants consumed vast quantities of fuel against a losing fight in many cases. Dwellers on the hills received the brunt of the battle and many exceptionally low marks are reported.

The wind subsided Sunday evening, but returned at intervals for another fling before casting off. Thermometers indicated 15 below zero and lower according to location. Many frost bites were treated during the day.

Temperature Monday morning bumped the 15 below mark, but still air gave the impression of a fairly mild condition. This proved a relief, for the mercury commenced to climb and reached the cipher before noon.

Practically all the churches held services as usual Sunday, but congregations as a rule fell below the average attendance. Householders and plumbers spent many hours thawing water pipes and repairing damages. Others not so engaged hovered about radiators and stoves, envying friends in Florida or dreaming about the good old summer time. The Boston Sunday papers failed to connect until evening, and this was a serious blow to a small army of readers expecting to forget their troubles with the comics and sporting pages. Happy is the man who had his coal bin full. His sorrows are less than the open-winter expert who pinned his faith on goose bones and stored fuel accordingly.

The chemical auto truck with six firemen responded to a call Saturday evening from Willard Buck's, near Norway Lake village. A burning chimney threatened his buildings during the gale. Owing to drifts on the side road leading to his place, the apparatus could not negotiate the hill, so failed to reach the danger zone.

Shaw's dance was omitted Saturday night, owing to the severe weather. Dancing as usual Saturday evening, Feb. 2.

STORY OF BY-GONE DAYS

Twenty-Six Years Ago

Two feet of snow fell Monday and Tuesday and was kicked into drifts, causing blockades on the railroad. Milk team from Norway Lake was four hours late, the Norway branch train didn't run. Electric cars were not started from the barn. Watford stage was nearly eight hours late. Boston mail reached Norway on Wednesday. Worst blizzard in ten years.

Selectionmen have been petitioned for an extension of Marston Street across the branch track, where some new houses have been put up.

Obstacle race during the dance at Norway Opera House Saturday was won by Ned Cross with Theophilus Judkins and Fred Locke not far behind. This was a mile foot race with many obstacles to overcome. Cross's time was 10 minutes, the prize being an ulster.

Candidates for the Norway Postoffice are S. D. Andrews, F. A. Danforth, Geo. P. Locke, Capt. M. P. Stiles, C. S. Akers and F. T. Bartlett.

Roller skating is a craze with the New Hall, South Paris, open nearly every evening for meager parties and novel ideas to draw the crowds.

Business is rushing at the Wild River Lumber Co. mill in Hastings. Annual output is estimated at 190 million feet.

BETTER DELIVERY FOR NEWS- PAPERS

As a result of several months of investigation and study, by experts of the Post Office Department, Postmaster General New today issued the first definite, concise and complete program that has ever been put out by the Department for the mailing, transmission and delivery of newspapers.

This order is most important. It is far reaching. It gives the same expedition to newspapers as is accorded to first class mail.

The order is the result of painstaking effort on the part of the Post Office inspectors, under the direction of First Assistant Postmaster General Bandett. Carefully worded and minute instructions have been issued to all employees engaged in handling the mails, so that there will be no possibility of misunderstanding the importance of getting newspapers to the reader with a minimum of delay.

The essence of the order is that newspapers shall not be mixed with parcel post at any point in their dispatch from the publishers' offices until their delivery to the addresses. Papers shall be handled by themselves, and kept in constant transit, not being sent to railway terminals to be reloaded. In other words, they are to be handled in the same manner as first class mail.

An important feature of the order is that no publication shall be given any less efficient or less expeditious treatment than at present. That means that publications other than newspapers will not suffer one iota from this progressive innovation, made by the Post Office Department.

Another striking feature of the order is the elimination of sacks of mail which are known to the business world as "mixed mail." Sacks of mixed mail sometimes contain letters, papers, and parcel post. This order will prevent a recurrence of that condition.

Another important feature of the order is that postmasters are required to notify publishers in each instance when they do not hit the dispatch which they advertise to him; also to notify publishers when they are sending to wrong addresses and to the addresses of deceased persons. Publishers will also be notified when they are putting up their mail in an incorrect manner.

Under the new system, newspapers will be made up in separate sacks plainly labeled with the word "Newspapers." If there are only a few copies of newspapers at the point of dispatch, they will be placed in pouches with first-class mail or in separate sacks, even though the sacks are only partially filled.

This order means much to the American public. It is one of the most important and far reaching steps in post office history. It is for the benefit of those who desire to be their newspapers placed before them at as early a moment as possible. This should keep both the city and rural population in closer and quicker touch with their several fields of activities.

THE JOHN DEERE SPREADER

The Spreader with the Beater on the Axle

The main axle of the John Deere Spreader serves a two-fold purpose, that of an axle for the spreader and a shaft for the beater. All the strain and stress of spreading comes where it belongs, on the main axle, the strongest part of the machine, not on the spreader frame and box sides. The axle runs in self-aligning boxes. It can not bind or get out of true. The draft is lightened and wear is reduced.

The box is wide and low—only 36 inches to the top of the box. The load is carried on all four wheels.

The load is delivered near the ground, wind does not affect spreading.

High Drive Wheels lighten the draft and furnish extra traction. Easy to load at back end, over the beater, if necessary.

Turns in its own length. Very easy on repairs.

BASEBALL

N. H. S. Baseball Schedule

Manager Joe Roy with the help of his able assistants, has nearly completed a slam bang schedule for the coming baseball season. Only five dates are open and games are pending for those dates. Joe is willing to take on any team furnishing satisfactory terms. Special mention is made of the following: Lewiston High, Farmington Normal, Farmington High, Abbott School, Yarmouth High, Deering High, West Paris, Mechanic Falls High, Winthrop High and Edward Little. The schedule includes 17 games, eight to be pulled off at Norway with the majority coming on Saturday. It is one of the finest cards ever made up and will sure tickle the supporters of the national game. Gould's Academy again heads the list at Norway as they did last year. They also started this year's basketball slate. Both Hebron and Bridgton Academy have been dropped. Several new teams have been secured to replace them: Hallowell, Gardiner and Mexico. One or two others do not appear on this year's book, they have been weeded out. The old rival, Oxford, clashes with Norway here and at Oxford again. A hot contest is usually staged by the outfits. Leavitt Institute of Turner is another former acquaintance. Some fifteen veterans or so represent the backbone of the crack aggregation that will stack up well against all comers. What a Freshman class will produce is not known as yet. Many of the vets played football and are now playing basketball and will be in fine condition for the grueling tests.

Schedule:

Sat. Apr. 19, Gould's Academy at Norway.
Wed. " 20, Bethel at Buckfield (Pend.)
Wed. " 26, Mexico at Norway.

Sunday morning services as usual with church school at noon. The Juniors have an interesting meeting planned at 3 o'clock, and the evening service at 7 o'clock will prove helpful.

The Juniors contest banquet in the dining hall, Thursday evening, was a success with sixty-five in attendance. The losing side led by Ida Gammon furnished a splendid supper at 6 o'clock. The winners as guests were seated first and Rev. and Mrs. O. B. Tracy as guests of honor were shown marked attention. All members of the losing side occupied a side table and assisted the young waitresses in their duties of giving the best service possible. Mr. Tracy told a story after the supper and a long list of games followed. This pleasant gathering was in charge of the Junior Superintendent, Mrs. Nettie Nevers and assisted by Mrs. John Swain, Mrs. Howard L. Drake, Mrs. Harold A. Anderson and Mrs. Richard Saleeby. No pains were spared by the losing side to give the winners the time of their lives.

J. W. Goldthwaite killed a nice big hog, Saturday.

Thursday evening a joint installation of the I. O. O. F. and the Rebekahs was held at their hall. Supper preceded the installation, the new joint ceremony was used and was most admirably given by D. G. M. Andrew Blake, D. D. P. George Gethell assisted by their marshals, Harry Durgin and Mrs. Lottie Peckdexter, all from Brownfield.

This was the first time the new form has been used here, and nearly all thought it superior in many ways to the old form. After the installation a fine program was given as follows:

After the business, the superintendent preached a wonderful sermon on "The Harvest is Great, but the Laborers are Few." The janitor had both stoves wide open and plenty of light to illuminate the little church. In spite of the cold, our visitor left a definite benediction upon us.

MEXICO'S POTENTIAL WEALTH

Country's Resources, Known to Be Great, Are to Be Subject of Thorough Investigation.

In the state of Coahuila, Mexico, a wild plant is found growing, the leaves of which have long been used in boilers of engines to prevent the foaming of the water. Some years ago the manufacture of a boiler-compound of these leaves was carried on successfully, but the turbulent times caused the industry to be abandoned. It has been proposed that Mexico, instead of shipping its hides to the United States to be tanned and manufactured into leather, shall utilize the hides of its cattle and other animals at home. At present the leather industry is mostly carried on by crude processes of tanning and manufacturing, notwithstanding the fact that there exists in the country an inexhaustible supply of wild vegetation from which tannic acid for the manufacture of leather may be obtained at low cost.

It is to obtain some definite idea of the resources of Mexico in the matter of wild plants and shrubs and the products of forest trees, that the government now has under consideration plans for a careful and thorough survey of these native products of the soil. In connection with this investigation a laboratory will be installed where chemical analysis of specimens of plant life may be made with the view of discovering whether or not they may be made of commercial value.

CITY OF HOMER AND CROESUS

Unfortunate Smyrna Credited With Being the Birthplace of Two Great Men of History.

Smyrna, recently captured by the Turks, is both old and famous. It is the purported birthplace of Croesus and claims to be the birthplace of Homer. It was a city long before the days of Alexander the Great, who rebuilt it where it now stands, as he saw its strategic position as an extreme western port for eastern markets. In 23 A. D. Rome selected Smyrna from among many rivals for site of the great temple to be dedicated to the emperor.

This ancient city figures prominently in connection with early church history, observes the Detroit News. It is but 50 miles from Ephesus, where the ruins of that city with its famous temple are still to be seen. Smyrna itself is supposed to have been for some time the home of the apostle St. John, whose disciple, Polycarp, afterward head of the Smyrna church, was burned at the stake about 155 A. D. His tomb is still the outstanding sight of the city and is on the crest of the hill near the place of his martyrdom. Almost within sight of Polycarp's tomb, to the south, lies the isle of Patmos, to which St. John was banished, and where the Book of Revelation is supposed to have been written.

BROTHER BACON'S POEMS

"The other day," said Brother Bacon, "I heard of a family who write each other poems on their birthdays."

"The one who has the birthday doesn't write any poems, but all the others write a poem for that one."

"Then the one who has the birthday gets up after the poems are all read and the presents are all given and makes a speech of thanks."

"Of course I am very much afraid that on my coming birthday the pigs will not have any poems ready for me, so I am going to have plenty of poems ready myself."

"Then, too, I shall make them up myself, as I want to be sure nice things are said about me, and I'll be quite sure to say them myself."

"We didn't know it was your birthday time again, grunt, grunt," said Sammy Sausage.

"I don't believe it is, squeal, squeal," said Miss Ham.

"Neither do I, grunt, grunt," said Sir Percival Pork.

"No more do I, grunt, grunt," said Sir Benjamin Bacon.

"Brother Bacon is always trying to imagine it is his birthday time again," said Grandfather Porky Pig.

"That's what he does," said Mrs. Pink Pig.

"Exactly what he does, grunt, grunt," said Pinky Pig.

"Precisely what he does, squeal, squeal," said Mrs. Pinky Pig.

And Pinky Pig's mother said: "But times are hard, Brother Bacon. We cannot give presents just now."

"That's true," said Master Pink Pig. "We must be careful not to run into pig debt."

"What's that?" asked Mr. Pink Pig.

"Business, my dear," said Master Pink Pig. "You wouldn't understand."

"But it means, anyway, that we mustn't spend any money at this time, and more than that, we mustn't go without any food we may find, for we must always think of the future."

"One never knows how hard times will be or how hungry one will be. It's nice to be kindly, but it's nicer still to be kindly to one's self."

"True," said Mrs. Pinky Pig. "I think that, too."

"I wasn't asking for presents," said Brother Bacon. "I was only speaking about birthday poems."

"He knew it was of no use to ask for presents," said Sammy Sausage.

"Listen to a Birthday Poem."

"Poor Brother Bacon. It's too bad that just at this time I'm so cramped I can't give you a present."

"Cramped?" asked Brother Bacon. "Do you mean you have the cramps? Doubtless you need a hot water bottle and a cup of ginger tea."

"I haven't cramps of that sort," said Sammy Sausage. "When creature says that he's cramped and can't give a present it means that at that time money is hard to get hold of and that he can't spread out with his wealth."

"Bosh!" said Brother Bacon. "That's an excuse. But never mind. Listen to a birthday poem I wrote myself."

So the pigs all listened.

"Many happy returns of the day. 'Brother Bacon may you live away! You're a fine, fine pig. You can dig, dig, dig. You are so happy and gay. Grunting your little say.'"

The pigs all squealed and grunted and twisted their tails at the end of this and Brother Bacon, without being asked to recite more (for he was afraid he would not be asked) went right ahead.

This was his second poem:

"I like to write this verse, 'It might be a great deal worse. It's true, it might be better too. But it is the very best I can do.'"

"Well," said the pigs, "if that is so, there is no more to be said."

And then Brother Bacon recited one more birthday poem which he had written for himself:

"Oh, birthdays come and go. They really are quite slow. But when there isn't very much giving. 'It doesn't matter about birthdays living. But I'll have birthdays now and again. Hoping for presents from pigs, children or men.'"

The Ships Can't but the Teacher Was. Teacher—If one may, can build a house in twelve days, six men can do it in two days.

WHITE ONES

By ETHEL M. RICE

Mandy replaced her iron, on the stove and turned toward the opened window. "For the land sakes, Silas! If here don't come all the white hens!"

Her husband looked up from his newspaper, to share in amazement at the feathered procession coming up the walk.

"My gorry!" he cried. "I must have left the henhouse door open! Where in tunket do you s'pose they've been now? Makes the third time that's happened in the last two weeks! My gorry, I wonder whose garden they've been into! Ezra! Ezra!"

"Yes, pa, I'm comin'!"

Silas waved toward the feathered tribe. "Shoo them hens back into the henhouse in a hurry, son, and bear in mind that we'll be just as healthy if you don't take pains to spread the news that they've been out walkin'."

Do ye hear? And, say, hold on, Ezra. I guess you'd better light that little oil stove and there; it rained in a bit last night, and it's made it kind of wet."

Don't let it burn more'n twenty minutes, mind ye. And watch the wick, Ezra, watch the wick; see that it don't work up; you must set the hull place afore last time. If ye can't look out for it better this time, son, 'pon my word, I'll lick ye."

One hour later Ezra lay stretched on the grass, oblivious to all save the "Adventures of Scout Bob in Wild Man's Cave."

My, but it was interesting. The boy could almost feel cold shivers chase up and down his spine as he read. "Softly Bob crept into the cave, dragging with him the can of oil."

"Great jumpin' jimminies! The oil stove!"

Bob and his adventures ceased to exist for Ezra, as he tore off in the direction of the henhouse. One glance was enough to convince him of the error of his ways. The wick was indeed "worked up"; the hot air was thick with soot; the walls were hung with it, and not a white hen was to be seen—every gasping one of them appeared in garb of deepest mourning.

Ezra groaned. "Gosh! What'll I say? And him so proud of them pure white feathers. And what'll I get! Oh, gosh!"

At 5:30, after one and a half hours of ceaseless labor, all signs of the recent smokeout had disappeared—with the exception of the hens, who still wore their dingy plumage. The boy looked them over doubtfully.

"I'll tackle you after supper," he promised.

But the best laid plans of mere man do not always carry, and before supper was half over Silas put in a worried appearance.

"Mandy, we're up against it!"

Mandy gulped down her swallow of tea. "Up against it! Up against what?"

"Well, I'll tell ye. I just met Sam Pike up the street here. You know old man Marner that bought the Newbury farm about two months back—the feller that forgot to pay me for the grain I sold him? Well, Sam says he's mad enough to lick the hull town. Claims somebody's bunch of hens has got into his garden two or three times and raised ruction with it. He don't know yet who owns 'em, but he's got Officer Ryan on the job, and they're going to make trouble for somebody. It kind of listens, Mandy, as if that somebody was me. Ryan's always seemed mighty friendly to me, but at the same time duty is duty, and I—my gorry, here they come now!"

Silas drew himself up with all the dignity of his five foot nine.

"Evenin', gentlemen. What can I do for ye?"

Marner came directly to the point. "Own any hens, Mr. Lewis?"

"I do."

"What kind?"

"Purty good ones."

"I'll thank you to lead us to those hens of yours," the officer told Lewis.

Silas reached for his hat. "Why didn't you explain what you wanted in the first place?"

Silas threw 'open the door. He gasped, choked and finally managed to gulp: "Gentlemen, them—them—them's my hens."

Surprise and defeat showed on the faces of the two men.

"Rumph!" grunted Marner. "I understood your hens were white, Mr. Lewis?"

"They was—that is, they used to be—I mean, I used to keep white ones."

"Well," said the officer, "I guess we may as well move on, Mr. Marner. Sorry to trouble you, Lewis. You see, we're particularly interested in white hens just at present—white ones, you understand."

Part way down the walk he turned and retraced his steps.

"By the way, Lewis, you'd better fix the latch on that henhouse door; them hens of yours are apt to get out some time when you're not lookin'."

Silas eyes twinkled, and the corners of his mouth stretched into a grin as he turned to the scared-looking boy in the background.

"Ezra! Come here! Come here and shake hands with your dad. I—I guess I won't lick ye this time, Ezra."

Experienced.

SOUTH ALBANY

The Dresser school closed Jan. 9 after a term of nine weeks. The number of pupils registered during the term was 13. Those not absent one-half day were Edith Canwell, Arthur Wardwell, Henry Churchill and Lillian Churchill. Parents and pupils are both glad to know that Mrs. Alta Bird plans to continue her work here in this school the next term.

Mrs. Elmer Henley has been at Norway the past week with her daughter, Mrs. Ben Hosmer, and other friends. Lowell Henley and family have moved into the C. W. York house. Mr. Henley is working for Harry Brown in the steam mill at North Waterford.

Marjorie Canwell, who has been at home from Norway High School some weeks because of the scarlet fever in that place has returned to Norway.

Herman Cummings of Norway visited his uncle, Wallace Cummings of Albany. June Brown, who was at home over the week end and was detained by the extremely cold weather and did not return to Bridgton Academy until Monday forenoon.

Ernest Grover spent Saturday with his mother, Mrs. Ezra Lebroke.

Merritt Savin helped Herman Holt kill a pig last Friday.

Wallace Cummings recently killed a 14 months old pig that dressed off 600 pounds. He killed one in the early fall less than a year old that weighed 360 pounds. They were White Chester and were raised by Calvert Fullerton.

Mrs. Calvert Fullerton recently received word from her father, Emerson Tucker, of Buckfield that he was very sick and threatened with bronchial pneumonia.

Ernest Browne and Merritt Savin have their year's supply of ice in and packed. The Kimballs have been cutting it on French Pond.

Jacob Wardwell Dresser

Jacob Wardwell Dresser, who passed away at his home at North Waterford, Jan. 19, was a native of this town. He was the son of the late Hon. P. P. and Mary (Wardwell) Dresser and was born on the old Dresser homestead where his father was also born. He lived at home until he was 40 years old.

For many years he was engaged in lumbering taking large logging contracts. He has operated in Albany, Greenwood, Grafton and other towns in Oxford County. He furnished his own teams hired many men and with hard work and good judgment always accomplished whatever he set out to do. His men were always "our boys" with him and his good wife. Because of not very good health he was obliged to give up the hard work and moved to North Waterford and took up the trade of a blacksmith which he has since followed.

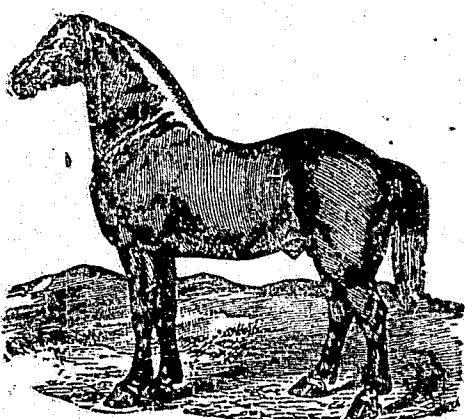

He built the shop where he has worked for many years and had put in machinery and tools until he had what was called the best equipped shop for many miles around. He put his whole time and energy into his work and always aimed at perfection. It was a finished job that he called a good one. With his painstaking work he had achieved an enviable reputation as one of the best in the first rank of his profession.

He had a warm spot in the hearts of all who knew him well. He leaves a widow, one daughter, Mary Dresser, a teacher in Berlin, N. H., and three sisters, Mrs. Adria Doughty of Pownall, Mrs. Edna Godfrey of New York City, and Mrs. Maud Brown of North Waterford, who is spending the winter in Florida, and several nephews and nieces.

For many years the Boston Globe has been noted for the accuracy of its news reports.

OF INTEREST TO THOSE WHO PLAY CARDS

Sent in by Old Bill

A great many who play cards these winter evenings will be interested to know the mysteries of a pack of cards.
I read this once, years ago, and will give what I can remember but don't make the mistake of giving me the credit for the discovery for I don't want any false honors. (Old Bill).

When we see the ace it reminds us there is but one God, when I see the Deuce it reminds us of the Father and Son, when we see the trey it reminds us of the Father, Son and the Holy Ghost.
When we see the four it reminds us of the four Evangelists who preached Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. When we see the five it reminds us of the five wise virgins that trimmed their lamps;
there were ten, but five were wise and five were foolish and were shut out. When we see the six it reminds us that in six days the Lord made the Heaven and the earth; when we see the seven it reminds us that on the Seventh day He rested from the great work he had created and Hallowed it. When we see the eight it reminds us of the eight righteous persons that were saved when God destroyed the world viz Noah and his wife and three sons and their wives; when we see the nine it reminds us of the nine lepers that were cleansed by our Saviour, there were nine out of ten, who never returned thanks; when we see the ten it reminds us of the ten commandments which God handed down to Moses on tablets of stone; when we see the King it reminds us of the King of Heaven which is God;
when we see the Queen it reminds us of the Queen of Sheba who visited Solomon for she was as wise a woman as he was a man. She brought with her fifty boys and fifty girls all dressed in boy's apparel for King Solomon to tell which were boys and which were girls. King Solomon sent for water for them to wash.
The girls washed to their elbows and the boys washed to their wrists. So King Solomon told by that the boys from the girls. When we see the Knave it bids us beware of the different kinds of Knavery there is in the world. When we count the spots in a pack of cards we find 365, the number of days in the year. When we count the number of cards in a pack we find 52, the number of weeks in a year; we find 4 suits, the number of weeks in a month; there are 12 picture cards, the number of months in a year and counting the tricks there are 13, the number of weeks in a quarter, so you see a pack of cards serves as a Bible, an Almanac and a common prayer book.
